

This application has no option to do. But when I install and use another software it works. But TempTale Manager doesn't work with the software. I even tried to uninstall this. There is no way to uninstall this software. I can just remove the TempTale Manager folder but then TempTale Manager doesn't work with my software. I don't know how to solve this issue. A: TTMD is a fork of TempTale Manager from the very same creator. Since the original TempTale Manager was discontinued by Sensitech, someone by the name of Thom Dunn created a fork of it, this fork being TTMD, a few years later. TTMD is compatible with the newer TempTale Ultra devices, and is free to use, unlike the original. I can't say for sure that TTMD was created just for the new TempTale Ultra devices, but my guess would be yes. If it was created specifically for the TempTale Ultra devices, you would just have to write a profile for each TempTale Ultra device on the screen, just as the older TempTale Manager did. Q: HTTP headers in Node.js Is it possible to add HTTP headers to an HTTP response object? Something like this in c#: `HttpWebRequest request =`

(HttpWebRequest)WebRequest.Create(url);
request.Headers.Add("Authorization", "xAuth xAuth");
using (WebResponse response = request.GetResponse())
    using (Stream responseStream = response.GetResponseStream()) { var readBuffer = new Byte[1024]; int bytesRead; while ((bytesRead = responseStream.Read(readBuffer, 0, readBuffer.Length)) > 0) { //Use HTTP Headers here } } A: Answering my own question: var http = require('http'); var headers = { 'content-type':
'application/json', 'x-token': 'xAuth xAuth' }; var request
