Q: Get property type of class in a specific object from a List I have a List, where Obj has a List. In each object, I have a property called Property, which is of type T and the T can be any type and can change from object to object. What I'd like to do is get the property type of all of the items in the List of each object in the List without iterating through each item and checking it's type. I have this code but it's not a very efficient way to do this and I figured there would be a way to do this with LINQ? My code so far. var classType = typeof(Obj.GetType()); if (objList is IList) { var propertyTypeList = ((IList)objList).Cast().Select(x => x.PropertyType).ToList(); } A: Try this code: var propertyTypes = typeof(Obj.GetType()).GetProperties().Select(x => x.PropertyType).ToList(); All you need to do is take all the properties of the type in question and get their property types. If you need to filter down on that based on a particular type/field, that's an extra step. I know this is the "Balkan" thread, but I am about to get banned if I don't just answer this question now (one of the first ones to come up since the whole thing about Balkan culture started). Balkan culture (n.) 1. The culture of the Balkans. 2. The turbulent, volatile history of the region, and the efforts to maintain a distinct culture under the pressures of the Ottoman, Austro-Hungarian, and Balkan adversaries. Click to expand... I know what 'Balkan' means. It's the landmass of Albania, Bosnia, Bulgaria, Kosovo, Macedonia, Montenegro, Romania, Serbia and a few others. As for the

If you would like to find out more about how to control drugs in your state, search the [Drug Indexing Project | Drug Epidemic | Federal Government USA][1]. The information presented is not guaranteed to be correct. To report an error please write to the administrator. The history of the DEA began in 1973 when the Nixon Administration proposed a bill called the Drug Abuse Prevention and Control Act. This bill introduced a 'Drug Czar' to head the DEA. It created a special committee of five members of the House of Representatives
